
Mootools problem

Posted by luciffere - 2008/06/18 15:01

Hello. I installed today the mxcomment and i see that content with pictures what use the mootools (jceutils plugins), not want to work. Before i installed the mxcomment the mootools works, but now only a static pop-up without mootools effect... Is a conflict of mxcomment with mootools?????????

First let me say that I love this component and use it on 3 other sites with no issue. This is the first site I have used Mootools based modules and have also run into this problem. In this case the module is a slider displaying one of four different module positions in a single space, with mXcomment enabled the slider functionality breaks and all four module positions load at once in a huge jumbled mess. Any help would be appreciated as I would hate to have to switch to a different comments system.

Edit: I also use the SuperVote module which works in conjunction with mXcomment, another reason I would like to continue to use this wonderful component if possible.

Joomla! 1.0.15 (stable)
mXcomment 1.0.9
